Dear Mr. Carle:

The Publications Review Board completed its review of the galleys of your manuscript entitled The Interrogator – An Education, submitted on 4 March 2011. In the Board's current review, it determined given a full review, in its current context, that some of its previous deletions could be allowed. These are specified below. The Board also noted that it overlooked one particular phrase in previous versions that is considered currently and properly classified and must be revised or deleted prior to publication. The Board has no objection to the new material that you added since our last review.

A copy of the edited page with the deletion is enclosed for your records.

As always, if you add material to or change the text the Board has approved for publication, please submit these additions or changes to us before giving them to your publisher or anyone else. In such a case, please mark or otherwise clearly indicate the new material so we can expedite our review. Additional material that must be submitted includes, but is not limited to, photographs, photograph captions, illustrations, diagrams, tables, charts, or maps.

Thank you for including the Board's required disclaimer.

If you disagree with the Board's determination, you may ask the Board in writing and within 30 days of the initial determination, to reconsider. Include any and all information or explanation of the facts that you believe the Board should know. You may include citations or copies of similar references that show this information to have been previously released and already in the public domain. Although mere listing of published citations may not necessarily be sufficient to change the Board's decision. If the Board upholds its initial decision, you may then formally appeal the Board's reconsideration decision. Such appeals go to the Agency's Associate Deputy Director for a final Agency decision. If you wish to appeal, you must do so within 30 days of the Board's reconsideration decision. The appeal must be in writing and must be sent to the Board's Chairman. Appeal documentation must include the material intended for publication and any supporting material you would like the Associate Deputy Director to consider. Please note that in all cases, the decision of the ADD/CIA is final. If an appeal is NOT brought to the attention of ADD/CIA within applicable time limits, the original decision of the PRB will be adopted.

Please do not hesitate to contact the Publications Review Board at if you have any questions or if we can be of further assistance. (b)(3) CIAAct

Sincerely,
